

ABSTRACT

An assembly for the movement of paint trays. The assembly includes an upwardly orientated opening through which an end of a paint roller may be inserted to push, pull, rotate and maneuver a paint tray. The assembly may be removably or permanently affixed to the paint tray, and the assembly may be provided alone or incorporated directly into the paint tray itself or the ramp surface of the paint tray.